Citing Images

Documenting sources for images can be challenging, especially with the variety of new electronic resources now available. Many different style manuals exist. Listed below are several writing style manuals that may be consulted along with examples. Always ask your class instructor for the style appropriate for the course.

The basic information you will need
- Artist name
- Title of the work
- Date it was created
- Repository, museum, or owner
- City or country of origin
- Dimensions of the work
- Material or medium such as oil on canvas, marble, found objects

--If you found the image in a book you will need the author, title, publisher information, date, and page, figure or plate number of the reproduction
--If you found the image online you will need an access date, the web site address (URL) and in some cases an image ID number.

Work of Art found in an image database

For a work of art you viewed online, after the title enter the format type in brackets; use parentheses for the title of database, followed by date of access, URL, image ID or other unique number.

Format for a bibliography

It is not common practice to cite images in a bibliography but if a professor requests a citation in the bibliography use the following format:

Duveneck, Frank, Whistling Boy, oil on canvas, 1872, Cincinnati Art Museum, Cincinnati.
