What is Scholarship@Claremont?
Scholarship@Claremont is an online platform that archives, indexes, and provides access to faculty & student scholarship produced at The Claremont Colleges.

Why post your senior thesis or project in Scholarship@Claremont?
• Enable others around the world to benefit from your research
• Provide grad schools and future employers access to your thesis through your resume and/or webpage
• Contribute to the scholarly record for your major and your college
• Assist the students following in your footsteps
• Show off to your family and friends

What are the steps to posting a thesis or project in Scholarship@Claremont?
• Each of the Claremont Colleges has a unique procedure,
  FMI: libguides.libraries.claremont.edu/claremontthesesdissertations
• If your college does not require posting, don’t wait for your professor to nominate your thesis, Ask!

Before posting your thesis in Scholarship@Claremont

Do you have permission to use all content in your thesis or project?
• You may need permission from the copyright holder to post online images, graphs, etc.
• Do a fair use analysis to determine if you need to contact the copyright holder,
  FMI: libguides.libraries.claremont.edu/FairUse
• If you do need to contact the copyright holder,
  FMI: libguides.libraries.claremont.edu/CopyrightPermissions

Was your thesis a result of working on faculty research?
• Consult with the faculty member for permission to post the thesis
• Let them know that your thesis can be embargoed (delay in posting for a specified amount of time)

What level of access do you want to provide to your thesis or project?
• “Open Access” can be accessed from anywhere in the world
• “Campus Only” can only be accessed from the Claremont Colleges’ IP range
• Options including Creative Commons licensing and embargoing are available